

Help end period poverty with a lasting gift in your will

A gift in your will to Share the Dignity will help ensure that everyone is afforded the dignity in life that so many of us take for granted.

Give the gift of dignity

Leaving a gift in your will to Share the Dignity is a meaningful way to ensure that women, girls and those who menstruate will have access to the very basic of essentials. With your support, we can continue to distribute period products to those in need

Step 1: Plan and write your will

You can specify any amount or percentage of your estate that you feel comfortable gifting to Share the Dignity.

Step 2: Discuss with your legal advisor

We recommend that you seek the advice of an expert such as a solicitor before making or revising your Will. They will ensure your Will meets legal requirements and is worded correctly to reflect your wishes.

Step 3: Tell your family and friends

Your loved ones should be considered when writing your Will. Once you have taken care of your family and friends, it is important to discuss your intentions with them so they understand your decision to support Share the Dignity.

Step 4: Contact us

If you have a question or just want to let us know you're leaving us a gift, please get in touch. You can reach out to our team via email giving@sharethedignity.org.au

Suggested Wording

"I give the residue... OR

"I give [insert percentage]% of the residue... OR

"I give [insert specific amount or asset]...

to SHARE THE DIGNITY ACN 607 970 605 free of all duties, for its general charitable purposes. I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer of SHARE THE DIGNITY shall be a complete discharge to my Executor for the moneys paid in accordance with this bequest.

If SHARE THE DIGNITY has ceased to exist or has amalgamated with another charity or organisation or has changed name then the gift will not fail but my Executor will pay the gift to the charity or organisation in Australia which my Executor considers most closely fulfils the objectives that I intended to benefit by making the gift."
